Dining (restaurant descriptions)

le Meurice Restaurant

Two Michelin-starred restaurant serving Haute French cuisine in an elegant dining room with magnificent decor, inspired from the Salon de la Paix of the Château de Versailles. The restaurant recreates the lustrous effects of this period's architectural detailing and has landscape paintings on the wall. The restaurant was recently awarded in the 2005 "Top 50 Restaurants in the World".

Open for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Le Jardin d'Hiver Restaurant

Set beneath a fully renovated art nouveau glass roof, Le Jardin d'Hiver is open all day for continental breakfast, light lunch and dinner. Our signature Afternoon Tea is served every day. Le Jardin d'Hiver's leaded glass and mirror doors amplify and propel the light throughout the space, perpetuating a garden atmosphere.

Fontainebleau Bar

Like the festive night scene at the Chateau de Fontainebleau portrayed in the three restored Lavalley paintings hanging on its walls, the Fontainebleau Bar offers guests an ideal respite. The perfect place for classic or inventive cocktails served until 2:00 am in a Parisian atmosphere accompanied by contemporary music.

Banqueting & Conferences

The hotel has three sitting rooms on the ground floor, including the ceremonial Pompadour room. Two adjacent conference rooms are available for diplomatic parties, fashion shows, luncheons, and dinner parties. These rooms can accommodate receptions for 20 to 400 people.
